[ 04/2024 – 05/2024 ] Profile Management System Using PHP, HTML, My SQL

I created this project using HTML and a CSS template for front end, PHP and MySQL for back end for my CEN311 Web Technologies and Programming Course. It is a website for managing user profiles for an application/website. Main features include:

- Sign Up Form
- Login Form
- Hashing algorithms for passwords
- Add profiles
- Display profiles
- View, update and delete profiles

[ 05/2023 – 06/2023 ] Car Rental Management System Using C

This is a project we created as a group of 3 for the CEN110 C Programming Course. It is a program in the C programming language for a Vehicle Rental Company that enables users to store all necessary information for each vehicle, add new clients and reservations, and retrieve statistics based on the stored data. The program includes specifications for each vehicle, data stored for each reservation, and data stored for each client.

Main features are:

- Display a menu
- Display information
- Create reservations
- Add vehicle
- Modify information
- Search and sort vehicles
- Delete vehicles and records

[ 06/2024 – 08/2024 ]

Tutor in HTML Online

In the summer of 2024 I tutored an 8th grade student in HTML. We did the courses online via Google Meet. We did some samples and small projects.

I tried to keep her active by:

- giving her small tasks during the lesson,
- giving her homework,
- doing quizzes via Google Forms,

I was preparing every day by studying on the internet adding to my university knowledge.

- The tutoring was held in Turkish

[ 2020 – 2021 ]

Language Teacher for Kindergarten Students Tirana

I taught two siblings Turkish by taking care of them and doing different activities like drawing and playing sports games.

Organizing Events

HOBBIES AND INTERESTS

Travelling

I have been to many countries till now, countries from both Asia and Europe. However, I still cannot get enough!

I deeply enjoy seeing new places, exploring world architecture, history and nature and last but not least making new friends of different cultures!

Sports

Although not very active, I really enjoy watching and playing many kinds of sports. Especially the ones that involve the ball like volleyball, table tennis, badminton etc. I also really enjoy swimming and running.

Making new friends

I have an ISTJ personality (MBTI), so I am considered to be an introvert that enjoys her solitude. Do not let this fool you though! One of the things that I love most is meeting new people and gathering with family and friends. I enjoy being in crowded environments, especially at home when we invite guests over.

Reading

I love reading many types of books. The genres I go for the most are:

- Philosophical/Religious
- Psychological Thrillers
- Drama
- Crime/Mystery
- World Classics
